

BOARD POLICY 1.11

Gifts, Benefits and Hospitality

Falls Creek Alpine Resort Management Board ('the Board')

1. Scope

This policy states the Falls Creek Alpine Resort Management Board's (FCARMB's) position on:

- responding to offers of gifts, benefits and hospitality; and
- providing gifts, benefits and hospitality.

This policy is intended to support individuals and FCARMB to avoid conflicts of interest and maintain high levels of integrity and public trust.

FCARMB has issued this policy to support behaviour consistent with the Code of Conduct for Victorian Public Sector Employees and the Integrity Framework (consolidated Code of Conduct) for Directors of Victorian Public Entities. All employees are required under clause 1.2 of the Code to comply with this policy.

2. Application

This policy applies to all workplace participants. For the purpose of this policy, this includes: executives, Board members, employees, contractors, consultants and any individuals or groups undertaking activity for or on behalf of FCARMB.

3. Policy principles

This policy has been developed in accordance with requirements outlined in the minimum accountabilities for the management of gifts, benefits and hospitality issued by the Victorian Public Sector Commission (VPSC).

FCARMB is committed to and will uphold the following principles in applying this policy:

Impartiality - individuals have a duty to place the public interest above their private interests when carrying out their official functions. They will not accept gifts, benefits or hospitality that could raise a reasonable perception of, or actual, bias or preferential treatment. Individuals do not accept offers from those about whom they are likely to make business decisions.

Accountability - individuals are accountable for:

- declaring all non-token offers of gifts, benefits and hospitality;
- declining non-token offers of gifts, benefits and hospitality, or where an exception applies under this policy, seeking approval to accept the offer; and
- the responsible provision of gifts, benefits and hospitality.

Individuals with direct reports are accountable for overseeing management of their direct reports' acceptance or refusal of non-token gifts, benefits and hospitality, modelling good practice and promoting awareness of gifts, benefits and hospitality policies and processes.

Integrity: individuals strive to earn and sustain public trust through providing or responding to offers of gifts, benefits and hospitality in a manner that is consistent with community expectations. Individuals will refuse any offer that may lead to an actual, perceived or potential conflict of interest.

Risk-based approach: FCARMB, through its policies, processes and audit committee, will ensure gifts, benefits and hospitality risks are appropriately assessed and managed. Individuals with direct reports will ensure they are aware of the risks inherent in their team's work and functions and monitor the risks to which their direct reports are exposed.

4. Minimum accountabilities

Under the Instructions supporting the Standing Directions 2018 under the Financial Management Act 1994, the VPSC has set binding minimum accountabilities for the appropriate management of gifts, benefits and hospitality. These can be found at Appendix A.

BOARD POLICY 1.11

Gifts, Benefits and Hospitality

5. Definitions

Business associate

An individual or body that the public sector organisation has, or plans to establish, some form of business relationship with, or who may seek commercial or other advantage by offering gifts, benefits or hospitality.

Benefits

Benefits include preferential treatment, privileged access, favours or other advantage offered to an individual. They may include invitations to sporting, cultural or social events, access to discounts and loyalty programs and promises of a new job.

The value of benefits may be difficult to define in dollars, but as they are valued by the individual, they may be used to influence the individual's behaviour.

Ceremonial gifts

Ceremonial gifts are official gifts provided as part of the culture and practices of communities and government, within Australia or internationally. Ceremonial gifts are usually provided when conducting business with official delegates or representatives from another organisation, community or foreign government.

Ceremonial gifts are the property of the public sector organisation, irrespective of value, and should be accepted by individuals on behalf of the public sector organisation. The receipt of ceremonial gifts should be recorded on the register but does not need to be published online.

Conflict of interest

Conflicts may be:

Actual: There is a real conflict between an employee's public duties and private interests.

Potential: An employee has private interests that could conflict with their public duties. This refers to circumstances where it is foreseeable that a conflict may arise in future and steps should be taken now to mitigate that future risk.

Perceived: The public or a third party could reasonably form the view that an employee's private interests could improperly influence their decisions or actions, now or in the future.

Gifts

Gifts are free or discounted items or services and any item or service that would generally be seen by the public as a gift. These include items of high value (e.g. artwork, jewellery, or expensive pens), low value (e.g. small bunch of flowers), consumables (e.g. chocolates) and services (e.g. painting and repairs). Fundraising by public sector organisations that is consistent with relevant legislation and any government policy is not prohibited under the minimum accountabilities.

Hospitality

Hospitality is the friendly reception and entertainment of guests. Hospitality may range from light refreshments at a business meeting to expensive restaurant meals and sponsored travel and accommodation.

Legitimate business benefit

A gift, benefit or hospitality may have a legitimate business benefit if it furthers the conduct of official business or other legitimate goals of the public sector organisation, the public sector or the State.

Public official

Public official has the same meaning as section 4 of the Public Administration Act 2004 and includes, public sector employees, statutory office holders and directors of public entities.

BOARD POLICY 1.11

Gifts, Benefits and Hospitality

Public register

A public register is a record, preferably digital, of a subset of the information contained in a register, for publication as required by the minimum accountabilities. Guidance regarding the information that should be published is provided in the VPSC Policy Guide.

Register

A register is a record, preferably digital, of all declarable gifts, benefits and hospitality. Guidance regarding the information that should be recorded is provided in the Policy Guide.

Token offer

A token offer is a gift, benefit or hospitality that is of inconsequential or trivial value to both the person making the offer and the recipient (such as basic courtesy). The minimum accountabilities state that token offers cannot be worth more than $50.

Non-token offer

A non-token offer is a gift, benefit or hospitality that is, or may be perceived to be by the recipient, the person making the offer or by the wider community, of more than inconsequential value. All offers worth more than $50 are non-token offers and must be recorded on the FCRM gift, benefit and hospitality register.

6. Management of offers of gifts, benefits and hospitality

This section sets out the process for accepting, declining and recording offers of gifts, benefits and hospitality. Any exceptions to this process must have the prior written approval of the relevant organisational delegate, the Chief Executive Officer (CEO – FCARMB’s Accountable Officer).

Conflict of interest and reputational risks

When deciding whether to accept an offer, individuals should first consider if the offer could be perceived as influencing them in performing their duties or lead to reputational damage. The more valuable the offer, the more likely that a conflict of interest or reputational risk exists.

This table is a useful tool when considering how to respond to a gift offer.

G	Giver	Who is offering the gift, benefit or hospitality and what is their relationship to me? Does my role require me to select contractors, award grants, regulate industries or determine government policies? Could the person or organisation benefit from a decision I make?
I	Influence	Are they seeking to gain an advantage or influence my decisions or actions? Has the gift, benefit or hospitality been offered to me publicly or privately? Is it a courtesy or a token of appreciation or valuable non-token offer? Does its timing coincide with a decision I am about to make or my endorsement of a product or service?
F	Favour	Are they seeking a favour in return for the gift, benefit or hospitality? Has the gift, benefit or hospitality been offered honestly? Has the person or organisation made several offers over the last 12 months? Would accepting it create an obligation to return a favour?

Gifts, Benefits and Hospitality

T	Trust	Would accepting the gift, benefit or hospitality diminish public trust? How would the public view acceptance of this gift, benefit or hospitality? What would my colleagues, family, friends or associates think?
----------	--------------	---

Requirement for refusing offers

Individuals should consider the GIFT test at Figure 1 and the requirements below to help decide whether to refuse an offer. Individuals are to refuse offers:

- likely to influence them, or be perceived to influence them, in the course of their duties or that raise an actual, potential or perceived conflict of interest;
- could bring them, their board or the public sector into disrepute;
- made by a person or organisation about which they will likely make or influence a decision (this also applies to processes involving grants, sponsorship, regulation, enforcement or licensing), particularly offers:
 - made by a current or prospective supplier; or
 - made during a procurement or tender process by a person or organisation involved in the process;
- likely to be a bribe or inducement to make a decision or act in a particular way;
- that extend to their relatives or friends;
- of money, or used in a similar way to money, or something easily converted to money;
- where, in relation to hospitality and events, the organisation will already be sufficiently represented to meet its business needs (this will be kept at a minimum where possible).
- where acceptance could be perceived as endorsement of a product or service, or acceptance would unfairly advantage the sponsor in future procurement decisions;
- made by a person or organisation with a primary purpose to lobby Ministers, Members of Parliament or public sector organisations; or
- made in secret.

If an individual considers they have been offered a bribe or inducement, the offer must be reported to the FCARMB Chair or their delegate (who should report any criminal or corrupt conduct to Victoria Police or the Independent Broad-based Anti-Corruption Commission).

Token offers

A token offer is an offer of a gift, benefit or hospitality that is of inconsequential or trivial value to both the person making the offer and the individual. It may include promotional items such as pens and note pads, and modest hospitality that would be considered a basic courtesy, such as light refreshments during a meeting.

The minimum accountabilities state that token offers cannot be worth more than $50.

Individuals may generally accept token offers without approval or declaring the offer on FCARMB's register, as long as the offer does not create a conflict of interest or lead to reputational damage.

Employees may receive small gifts of appreciation such as a box of chocolates for the work they have done. These gifts are generally acceptable if the appreciation is being shown for a service provided and declining the gift could cause embarrassment or offence.

Non-token offers

Individuals can only accept non-token offers if they have a legitimate business benefit. All accepted non-token offers must be approved in writing by the individual's manager or organisational delegate, recorded in the gifts, benefits and hospitality register and be consistent with the following requirements:

- it does not raise an actual, potential or perceived conflict of interest or have the potential to bring the individual, the Board or the public sector into disrepute; and

BOARD POLICY 1.11

Gifts, Benefits and Hospitality

- there is a legitimate business reason for acceptance. It is offered in the course of the individual's official duties, relates to the individual's responsibilities and has a benefit to FCARMB, public sector or the State.

Individuals may be offered a gift or hospitality where there is no opportunity to seek written approval from their manager prior to accepting. For example, they may be offered a wrapped gift that they later identify as being a non-token gift. In these cases, the individual must seek approval from their manager within five business days.

Where the gift would likely bring you or the organisation into disrepute, the organisation should return the gift. If it represents a conflict of interest for you, the organisation should either return the gift or transfer ownership to the organisation to mitigate this risk.

Recording non-token offers of gifts, benefits and hospitality

All non-token offers, whether accepted or declined, must be recorded in FCARMB's gifts, benefits and hospitality register. The business reason for accepting the non-token offer must be recorded in the register with sufficient detail to link the acceptance to the individual's work functions and benefit to FCARMB, public sector or State.

Individuals should consider the following examples of acceptable and unacceptable levels of detail to be included in FCARMB register when recording the business reason:

Unacceptable

- "Networking"
- "Maintaining stakeholder relationships"

Acceptable

- "Individual is responsible for evaluating and reporting on the outcomes of FCARMB's sponsorship of Event A. Individual attended Event A in an official capacity and reported back to FCARMB on the event."
- "Individual presented to a visiting international delegation. The delegation presented the individual with a cultural item worth an estimated $200. Declining the gift would have caused offence. The gift was accepted on behalf of FCARMB."

The relevant declaration form is found on WHS Online; this can be completed and handed to the Director Corporate Services (DCS) or emailed to craigthompson@falls creek.com.au

Access to the register is restricted to relevant persons within FCRM.

The Finance, Risk and Audit Committee (FRAC) will receive a report at least quarterly on the administration and quality control of the gifts, benefits and hospitality policy, processes and register. The report will include analysis of FCRM's gifts, benefits and hospitality risks (including multiple offers from the same source and offers from business associates), risk mitigation measures and any proposed improvements.

The public register will contain a subset of the information detailed in FCARMB's internal register.

Ownership of gifts offered to individuals

Non-token gifts with a legitimate business benefit that have been accepted by an individual for their work or contribution may be retained by the individual where the gift is not likely to bring them or FCARMB into disrepute, and where their manager or organisational delegate has provided written approval. Employees must transfer to FCARMB official gifts or any gift of cultural significance or significant value.

Repeat offers

Receiving multiple offers (token or non-token) from the same person or organisation can generate a stronger perception that the person or organisation could influence you. Individuals should refuse repeat offers from the same source if they create a conflict of interest or may lead to reputational damage.

Ceremonial gifts

Ceremonial gifts are official gifts provided as part of the culture and practices of communities and government, within Australia or internationally. Ceremonial gifts are the property of the organisation, irrespective of value, and should be accepted by individuals on behalf of FCARMB. The receipt of ceremonial gifts should be recorded on FCARMB's register but this information does not need to be published online.

BOARD POLICY 1.11

Gifts, Benefits and Hospitality

Hospitality provided by Victorian public sector organisations

Victorian public sector organisations may provide hospitality to stakeholders, as part of their functions. When offered hospitality by a Victorian public sector organisation, individuals should consider the requirements of the minimum accountabilities.

Accepted hospitality offered by a Victorian public sector organisation as part of official business does not need to be declared or reported, where the reason for the individual's attendance is consistent with FCARMB's functions and objectives and with the individual's role.

7. Management of the provision of gifts, benefits and hospitality

This section sets out the requirements for providing gifts, benefits and hospitality.

O	Objectives	For what purpose will hospitality be provided? Is the hospitality being provided to further the conduct of official business? Will it promote and support government policy objectives and priorities? Will it contribute to staff wellbeing and workplace satisfaction?
S	Spend	Will public funds be spent? What type of hospitality will be provided? Will it be modest or expensive, and will alcohol be provided as a courtesy or an indulgence? Will the costs incurred be proportionate to the benefits obtained?
T	Trust	Will public trust be enhanced or diminished? Could you publicly explain the rationale for providing the gift or hospitality? Will the event be conducted in a manner which upholds the reputation of the public sector? Have records in relation to the gift or hospitality been kept in accordance with reporting and recording procedures?

Requirements for providing gifts, benefits and hospitality

Gifts, benefits and hospitality may be provided when welcoming guests, to facilitate the development of business relationships, further public sector business outcomes and to celebrate achievements.

When deciding whether to provide gifts, benefits or hospitality or the type of gift, benefit or hospitality to provide, individuals must ensure:

- any gift, benefit or hospitality is provided for a business reason that furthers the conduct of official business or other legitimate organisational goals, or promotes and supports government policy objectives and priorities;
- that any costs are proportionate to the benefits obtained for the State, and would be considered reasonable in terms of community expectations (the 'HOST' test at Figure 2 is a good reminder of what to think about in making this assessment);
- it does not raise an actual, potential or perceived conflict of interest;
- gifts available to all Falls Creek mountain employees may be accepted (e.g. discounted coffees, employee meals promotions (including discounts or one off complimentary offers), opening promotions, FCSL offers associated with market promotions); and
- light refreshments such as tea or coffee offered in the course of a business meeting at the organisation's premises may be accepted. These will have been offered as a courtesy and to make the guest feel welcome. Similarly light refreshments such as finger food at an opening ceremony or sandwiches at a conference may be accepted. In all

Gifts, Benefits and Hospitality

cases, the hospitality should be proportionate to the occasion. Modest hospitality offered as part of official business is not a reportable gift.

Containing costs

Individuals should contain costs involved with providing gifts, benefits and hospitality wherever possible, and should comply with the financial probity and efficient use of resources guidance outlined in the Code of Conduct for Victorian Public Sector Employees. The following questions may be useful to assist individuals to decide on the type of gift, benefit or hospitality to provide:

- Will the cost of providing the gift, benefit or hospitality be proportionate to the potential benefits?
- Is an external venue necessary or does the organisation have facilities to host the event?
- Is the proposed catering or hospitality proportionate to the number of attendees?
- Does the size of the event and number of attendees align with intended outcomes?
- Is the gift symbolic, rather than financial, in value?
- Will providing the gift, benefit or hospitality be viewed by the public as excessive?

Gifts to board members, staff and volunteers may be provided for reward and recognition including service history, retirement or termination. The maximum value of gifts should be determined by annual budget, but should not exceed $300 per person. Gifts should provide a reminder of Falls Creek (and its unique environment) wherever possible and may include local products or services, watches or Falls Creek Resort entry permits.

The following table provides guidance on gift limits:

Service Period	Service Recognition	Retirement or Termination
5	Recognition Certificate	After 7 years – Falls Creek Resort Entry Permit or other gift up to $150
10	Up to $50
15	Up to $50
20	Up to $50
25+	Up to $300

- Gifts for personal events including marriages or the birth of children should not be funded using public monies. Personal employee contributions or social club funds may be used for personal gifts (e.g. social club will fund up to $50 for baby gifts).
- In-house hospitality for personal celebrations including birthdays, marriages or birth of children should not be funded using public monies. Personal employee contributions or social club funds may be used for personal celebrations.

FCRM accepted and adopted DELWP policy and practice:

Reward and recognition programs

Modest gifts may be provided to employees in exceptional circumstances as part of the Recognising Our Staff program. Financial gifts to employees such as vouchers or gift cards are prohibited. Where financial gifts for reward and recognition programs are currently in use, it is recommended that they be phased out by mid-2020.

Maximum expenditure on unbudgeted gifts

FCRM has set a nominal limit of $150 for the maximum expenditure on gifts to others, where the expenditure has not been explicitly budgeted for. This nominal limit is a total for a discrete, unbudgeted gift. It is not per person or an annual total.

BOARD POLICY 1.11

Gifts, Benefits and Hospitality

Flowers

Flowers can be purchased from public funds in the event of the death of an employee or close family member. Should work colleagues choose to recognise life events such as the birth of a child, flowers and gifts are funded through staff collections.

Providing catering and alcohol for external events

Catering is provided at functions for external guests subject to the following criteria:

- there is a real benefit to FCARMB;
- the expenditure is modest and proportionate to the benefit;
- it is not excessive;
- it is not too frequent; and
- it is consistent with community expectations.

Alcohol may be purchased with public funds to serve at functions for external guests based on the following:

- provision of alcohol would be relatively infrequent and usually be associated with the service of food;
- any event where alcohol is served should be held at a time that minimises the risk of employees returning to work impaired by alcohol (e.g. if standard office hours are worked, the event should be held in the late afternoon or early evening);
- events with alcohol service do not exceed two hours in duration;
- no more than two standard drinks per person are provided; and
- the provision of alcohol should be incidental to the overall level of hospitality provided.

Providing alcohol at internal events

FCRM does not permit the purchase of alcohol with public funds for internal events. Having non-employees, guests or stakeholders at an event does not necessarily mean it is not an internal event.

FCRM practice for recognition events is that the business unit funds a modest meal and soft drinks. Staff purchase alcohol using their own money if they choose.

Providing catering at internal events

FCRM provides modest catering for employees for events such as annual recognition events or marking the completion of a major project based on the following considerations:

- the extent to which the event will contribute to organisational objectives by, for example, reinforcing particular values or motivating staff;
- whether there have been multiple recent events that would result in perceptions of excess; or
- the need to balance the positive benefits of public recognition with community expectations in relation to modest expenditure by public officials.

Celebrations of events such as birthdays, marriages or the birth of a child are not catered with public funds.

FCRM practice is that meetings are scheduled to avoid conflict with meal times. Where that is not possible, a break is encouraged to enable participants to seek their own refreshments. If an event or meeting extends over meal times, modest hospitality can be provided.

As a guideline, provide refreshments when meetings exceed these times:

- 2 hours - for morning or afternoon tea
- 3 hours - for lunch
- 5 hours - for lunch and either morning or afternoon tea
- 7 hours - for lunch, morning tea and afternoon tea

9. Authorising Officer and organisational delegate

This policy is issued under the authority of the Authorising Officer and is subject to annual review.

The organisational delegate is the DCS.

10. Breaches

Disciplinary action consistent with the relevant industrial instrument and legislation, including dismissal, may be taken where an individual fails to adhere to this policy. This includes where an individual fails to avoid wherever possible or identify, declare and manage a conflict of interest related to gifts, benefits and hospitality in accordance with FCARMB's Conflict of Interest Policy and the Code of Conduct for Victorian Public Sector Employees.

Actions inconsistent with this policy may constitute misconduct under the Public Administration Act 2004, which includes:

- breaches of the binding Code of Conduct for Victorian Public Sector Employees, such as sections of the Code covering conflict of interest, public trust and gifts and benefits; and
- individuals making improper use of their position.

For further information on managing breaches of this policy, please contact the DCS.

FCARMB will communicate its policy on the offering and provision of gifts, benefits and hospitality to contractors, consultants and other business associates. Those identified as acting inconsistently with this policy may be subject to contract re-negotiation, including termination.

11. Speak up

Individuals who consider that gifts, benefits and hospitality or conflict of interest within FCARMB may not have been declared or is not being appropriately managed should speak up and notify their manager or DCS. Individuals who believe they have observed corrupt conduct in their colleagues may also make a public interest disclosure directly to the Independent Based-based Anti-corruption Commission (IBAC).

FCARMB will take decisive action, including possible disciplinary action, against individuals who discriminate against or victimise those who speak up in good faith.

12. Contacts for further information

A conflict of interest resulting from the acceptance of a gift, benefit or hospitality is not always clear to those who have them. Individuals who are unsure about accepting a gift, benefit or hospitality, or the application of this policy, should ask their manager or the DCS for advice.

Appendix A – Minimum accountabilities

Public officials offered gifts, benefits and hospitality:

1. Do not, for themselves or others, seek or solicit gifts, benefits and hospitality.
2. Refuse all offers of gifts, benefits and hospitality that:
 - are money, items used in a similar way to money, or items easily converted to money
 - give rise to an actual, potential or perceived conflict of interest;
 - may adversely affect their standing as a public official or which may bring their public sector employer or the public sector into disrepute; or
 - are non-token offers without a legitimate business benefit.
3. Declare all non-token offers (valued at $50 or more) of gifts, benefits and hospitality (whether accepted or declined) on their organisation's register, and seek written approval from their manager or organisational delegate to accept any non-token offer.
4. Refuse bribes or inducements and report inducements and bribery attempts to the head of the public sector organisation or their delegate (who should report any criminal or corrupt conduct to Victoria Police or the Independent Broad-based Anti-corruption Commission).

Public officials providing gifts, benefits and hospitality:

5. Ensure that any gift, benefit and hospitality is provided for a business purpose in that it furthers the conduct of official business or other legitimate organisational goals, or promotes and supports government policy objectives and priorities.
6. Ensure that any costs are proportionate to the benefits obtained for the State, and would be considered reasonable in terms of community expectations.
7. Ensure that when hospitality is provided, individuals demonstrate professionalism in their conduct, and uphold their obligation to extend a duty of care to other participants.

Heads of public sector organisations:

8. Establish, implement and review organisational policies and processes for the effective management of gifts, benefits and hospitality that comprehensively address these minimum accountabilities.
9. Establish and maintain a register for gifts, benefits and hospitality offered to public officials that, at a minimum, records sufficient information to effectively monitor, assess and report on these minimum accountabilities.
10. Communicate and make clear within the organisation that a breach of the gifts, benefits and hospitality policies or processes may constitute a breach of binding codes of conduct and may constitute criminal or corrupt conduct, and may result in disciplinary action.
11. Establish and communicate a clear policy position to business associates on the offering of gifts, benefits and hospitality to employees, including possible consequences for a business associate acting contrary to the organisation's policy position. This must take into consideration any whole of Victorian Government supplier codes of conduct.
12. Report at least annually to the organisation's audit committee on the administration and quality control of its gifts, benefits and hospitality policy, processes and register. This report must include analysis of the organisation's gifts, benefits and hospitality risks (including repeat offers from the same source and offers from business associates), risk mitigation measures and any proposed improvements.
13. Publish the organisation's gifts, benefits and hospitality policy and register on the organisation's public website (applies only to organisations with an established website). The published register should cover the current and the previous financial year.
