IMPORTANT NOTE:

FCRM implements a year round fox control program using poison baits containing sodium fluoroacetate (1080). The program has been run in conjunction with Parks Victoria for many years in an effort to protect the endangered Mountain Pygmy Possum and other native species.

The poison bait products are used in accordance with product labels and the Directions for the Use of 1080 and PAPP Pest Animal Bait Products in Victoria, and risks to domestic dogs are reduced. However there is some associated risk and dog owners are advised;

- Complying with the conditions of authority will reduce the risk of dogs accessing baits.
- Active restraint may be needed to ensure that domestic dogs do not gain access to 1080 pest animal baits or poisoned animals.
- 1080 may remain active in poisoned animals and or baits for several weeks depending on prevailing environmental conditions.
- Over time 1080 is leached from the baits with rain and degraded by bacteria and moulds.
- Your animals may be poisoned if they eat 1080 baits or poisoned animals.
- It is unusual for domestic pets to ravage fox carcasses
- Closely monitor the health and behaviour of pets and contact a local veterinarian immediately if you notice any unusual or uncharacteristic behaviour

FCRM can provide more detailed information on the fox control program as requested.

I ACKNOWLEDGE THAT I HAVE READ AND AGREE TO ABIDE BY THE ABOVE CONDITIONS.
